BORAH URGES RECOGNITION

Senate Foreign Relations Committee Will Investigate Charges

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Foreign Minister Tchitcherin issued a statement Friday denying that the Russian Soviet government had ever sent any documents to the American Workers party or had ever had any connection with it whatsoever. If such documents exist, the statement declared, they are forgeries, the authenticity of which Russia would like to submit to arbitration.

WILL PROBE CHARGES

Washington, D. C.—With a sweeping study of the Russian question by the senate foreign relations committee in prospect after the holidays, further disclosures are expected to be made shortly in support of the state department's charges of revolutionary Soviet propaganda in the United States.

The contention in some quarters favoring recognition of the Russian government by the United States that the propaganda for a proletarian revolution in America emanates from the Communist international and not from the Soviet government is regarded as merely a quibble by the state department, which holds that it is impossible to draw a line of distinction between the two.

A resolution by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, urging the president to extend recognition to the Soviet government will provide the basis of the senate inquiry. Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, charged Tuesday that there was no proof of the alleged activities on the part of the Russian authorities, but Secretary Hughes is said to have collected evidence with the aid of the department of justice which he regards as establishing definitely the responsibility of Moscow for a movement to undermine the American government.

MODERNIST WINS DEBATE ON BIBLE

By Associated Press
New York—Religious modernists have won their first victory in the series of debates between the Rev. Charles Francis Potter, pastor of West Side Unitarian church, and Dr. John Roach Straton, pastor of Calvary Baptist church and one of the most prominent leaders of the so-called fundamentalist or conservative element among Protestant denominations.

The Rev. Potter was awarded the judges' decision in the first debate Thursday night when he upheld the negative side of the question "resolved that the bible is the infallible word of God." His victory, however, was won on presentation of his arguments, for the judges did not base their decision on the merits of the question itself.

Recalls 1820 But Forgets Home Address

By Associated Press
Los Angeles—Domingo Archbeck 110 years old, has an excellent memory for dates. Born in Santa Fe, N. M., in 1813, he remembers distinctly the important events of California's history, especially those affecting San Luis Obispo, where he came to live with his parents in 1830.

Couple Plays Ruth And Boaz At Marriage

Los Angeles, Calif.—A biblical romance will be turned into an actual wedding at Angeles temple Friday night. According to Mrs. Albee Temple McPherson, the evangelist for whom a devoted congregation built the temple, a play adapted from the biblical story of Ruth and Boaz, will culminate in the marriage of Miss Marian A. Britton and Thorvald P. Beck who will step from the line of harvesters and gleaners on the barley field to where Mrs. McPherson waited in white robes, to set the seal of a modern marriage ceremony upon the union foreshadowed in the play. Then a taxicab waiting outside will carry the people on their honeymoon.

DAWES OFFERED PRESIDENCY IN GERMAN PROBE

Reparations Commission Nominates General To Head Debt Investigation

By Associated Press
Paris.—The reparations commission Friday morning decided to offer to Charles G. Dawes, of the United States, the presidency of the committee which is to examine German finances.

GENERAL NON-COMMITTAL

Chicago—Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes refused to comment early Friday when informed by the Associated Press at his home in Evanston, North Shore suburb, that he had been nominated by the reparations commission to head the committee to examine German finances.

"Thank you very much, but I have nothing to say," said General Dawes.

He is regarded by his friends as singularly well equipped for the proposed duties, both through his financial experience and zeal as a public servant. He is the founder of and long has been head of one of Chicago's largest banking institutions. In 1917-1919 he served in France, most of the time, as chairman of the general purchasing board which handled the supplies of the American forces.

An American thus will head the principal expert committee to be named for the investigation of Germany's resources and financial situation.

The reparations commission found it necessary to postpone issuing its invitations to the other delegates on the committees aside from the Americans, but in view of the need of gaining time without delay, the names of General Dawes and Owen D. Young of New York were approved and instructions given that formal invitations be sent them.

It was the unanimous decision of the reparations commission that the presidency of the leading expert committee ought to be offered to General Dawes.

FREE MEN BUT HOLD BOATS OFF RUM ROW

By Associated Press
Boston.—Proceedings asking the forfeiture of six motor boats seized by coast guards on Wednesday night while in the neighborhood of the rum ships anchored about 20 miles off Cape Ann are to be instituted by federal authorities it was announced Friday. When all the boats were found free from liquor their crews were released.

The government contends that the boats, being pleasure craft, were outside their license rights in engaging in a commercial enterprise and that they were illegally holding communication with foreign vessels outside the territorial waters of the United States.

Santa Claus Must Not Miss Single Child This Year

Christmas Happiness In Scores
Of Appleton Homes Depends
Upon Generosity Of Good Fellows

Three more days of expectancy, of anticipation, of happy watchful waiting—then Santa Claus! What a happy occasion! For days and days fond fathers and mothers have been preparing for this great event in childhood lives.

Christmas morning! Happy, warm, wide-eyed youngsters tumble out of warm beds! With a whoop they rush down the stairs to the warm living room—probably a cherry fire is blazing on the hearth—to the gorgeously trimmed tree around which their gifts are heaped. Dolls, drums, builders sets, cars, sleds, engines, skates, books, games—everything they had wished for—is piled in profusion. Dad and mother, with faces beaming, smile happily as they watch the antics of their loved ones. No thought of breakfast, no thought of dressing while the youngsters, eyes shining with joyousness, are happy because Santa Claus has brought them all they wanted.

Christmas morning! Hungry, shivering children, with dimmed yet hope-

Prescribes Tobacco As Restful

By Associated Press
Sacramento.—Men of Sacramento learned Thursday from no less an authority than Dr. Fred F. Gundrum of this city, vice-president of the state board of health, that smoking, instead of being prohibited, is being prescribed in cases of stomach trouble. A pipe is preferred, although cigarettes and cigars may be used according to Dr. Gundrum. It is not for the value of the nicotine but because smoking, especially after meals, is likely to prove restful and it is for the rest that is needed by many patients, that the new treatment is prescribed, Dr. Gundrum said.

VETERAN ASHLAND OFFICIAL IS DEAD

By Associated Press
Ashland.—John E. Canovan, for more than 40 years a resident of Ashland and prominently identified with its political life for nearly all of that period, died Thursday. He is survived by a daughter, and a sister residing in New York state.

Mr. Canovan was born in New York, and came to Ashland in the eighties as a representative of the department of justice. He has served as president of the police and fire commission, has also been a patrolman, undersheriff, health officer and court officer. For more than 15 years he served Ashland as its poor commissioner. For several years he has been with the Schroeder Lumber co.

SEA-GOING PALACE GROUNDS IN HARBOR

By Associated Press
New York.—The Leviathan queen ship of American merchant marine, inbound from Cherbourg, Friday grounded on Robins reef in New York harbor. A call was sent for all available tug boats. The reef is located just north of Tompkinsville State Island. The ship grounded after she had passed in quarantine on the way to her dock.

The tide was ebbing when the Leviathan grounded. It will be 5 P. M. before high water mark again will be reached. The reef was considerably to the west of the main ship channel. The operators of the Leviathan were without advice at 11:15 as to how the vessel came to be so far off her course.

Almanac Says This Is First Day Of Winter

Talk about California! Look at us right here in Appleton with the best little bit of California weather that anyone can brag about.

Winter started today right here in Appleton, Wis., with the temperature at 39 degrees above zero. Was it any better than that when you spent the winter in California or that year in Florida? By noon on the first day of winter, the temperature in our home town had risen to 45 degrees.

Honestly, now, if we were Californians, wouldn't we star in to puff up the old climate and bring all our friends out here to Wisconsin to enjoy it? But, no, we from Wisconsin content ourselves in commenting on the queer weather and wondering how long "it" will last when it does come.

The only way Appleton knows that it is the first day of winter is by the almanac and the sun, which performs according to schedule no matter how the thermometers behave. The sun rose at 7:35 Friday morning and will set promptly at 4:22, giving even fortunate Appleton only the allotted eight hours and 47 minutes of daylight. But after today the days will begin to get longer and that means that SUMMER is coming.

Just a suggestion. Let's make "On Wisconsin" the holiday song instead of "Jingle Bells."

SAILSTAD WILL PAY DEBTS AND MARRY DOROTHY

Mystery Man And Sunshine Girl
Waive Examination In Superior Court

By Associated Press
Superior.—Following arraignment of 350 P. M. Thursday of Edward J. Sailstad and Dorothy Anderson before Judge F. S. Parker in municipal court on charges of arson, Sailstad told newspaper men that he will go before Judge Archibald McKay in Superior court either Friday or Saturday and plead guilty to the charges. Miss Anderson will follow the same course, he said.

After a full of 20 minutes in court presiding over the court, taking a recess on another case, Robert E. Kennedy, district attorney, made his appearance in the courtroom followed closely by Sailstad escorting Miss Anderson, with Sheriff William A. Hagren behind them.

The courtroom was packed with people who were in attendance at another case.

Judge Parker read the complaint and the prisoners waived examination in tones inaudible to the bystanders. Bail was fixed at $2,500 for each on motion of Mr. Kennedy. Sailstad announced that he would not furnish the bail and the two were returned to the county jail.

Tears were in Miss Anderson's eyes as she turned to leave the room. She viewed as a flashlight picture was taken during the arraignment and clung to Sailstad's arm as they left the court.

Sailstad declared that after he had completed his sentence he would pay back every cent of the damage he caused by the Lake Nebagamon cottage fire. He stated that he would ask an appraisal of the buildings by the owners and that he would begin life anew with the items on the debt side of the ledger. "I intend to pay the debt for these cottages and to marry Dorothy. Then I hope mother will come to live with us."

Sailstad will remain in Superior a few days after the sentence is passed in order to accept service in the divorce action to be filed in Eau Claire, against him by Mrs. Leona Sailstad-Richardson, his wife. Caigian and Caigian, Superior law firm, is acting as attorney for Mrs. Sailstad in the case.

Ford Withdrawal Aids Muscle Shoals Plans

Auto Magnate Fostered Uncertainty As To Candidacy To Show Possible Strength Politically

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1923 by The Post Pub. Co.
Washington.—Henry Ford probably will win that which he has yearned for far more than the presidency, namely, Muscle Shoals.

The inside story of the events leading up to Mr. Ford's latest pronouncement in favor of President Coolidge indicates that the automobile king at no time took seriously the efforts of his friends to get for him a political nomination, but that he took no steps to repress them sooner, because he saw on advantage in exhibiting to congress the political strength he could command.

When one of the managers of the McAdoo boom in South Dakota remarked that was "for McAdoo for president and Ford for Muscle Shoals," he gave expression to something that has only lately been impressed on political Washington. For Mr. Ford, it will be recalled, has felt for several months that he did not get a square deal on his Muscle Shoals proposition and that he could

Million Dollars

By Associated Press
Kenosha.—Xmas distribution of funds took place Friday when the Nash Motors Co. divided more than $349,000 among the employees of the company as Christmas gratuities. This included a Christmas gift of a ten dollar bill to every one of five thousand workers employed in the shops of the company and in addition larger bonuses on salaries.

Large distribution of Christmas bonuses were also made by the Simmons Co., the Allen A. the Cooper Underwear Co. and other plants. The most unique Christmas offering was at the plant of Frank L. Weiss Co. where in addition to the money bonus every employee was given half a dressed hog.

It was said that the Christmas bonuses handed out to Kenosha workers Friday would be close to a million dollars.

Federal Troops Reported Concentrating For Defense Of Capital

CAPTURED GENERAL SLAIN

Brother Of Pancho Villa Offers Fealty To Federal Government

By Associated Press
San Antonio.—Reports from Mexico City Friday received here by "The Light" indicated that a battle for the possession of Puebla, a rebel stronghold, is in progress. General Antonio Villareal, commanding 6,000 men is holding the city and defending it against an attack by two armies one under command of President Obregon and the other under command of General Andrew Almazan.

Other advices received by "The Light" state that federal forces are leaving the states of Tamaulipas and San Luis Potosi for Mexico city, as it is believed the rebels will attack the capital should they win at Puebla. Da La Huerta forces under Vincente Segura, governor of the state of Hidalgo under Carranza, are reported to have taken Pachuca, capital of Hidalgo and to be holding the city.

WOUNDED ARRIVE

The first cars of wounded soldiers from the battlefields of San Marcos, Puebla, have reached the city of Mexico and have been placed in the military hospitals for treatment, according to advices received here from Mexico City by the "Light." The wounded men include both federal and rebel soldiers. The latter are said to have been abandoned in the battlefield by their comrades when the rebels withdrew after brisk advance action. The number of wounded was not given.

In conformity with orders to maneuver so as to take a major rebel force in Vera Cruz towards the foot of the Puebla mountains for an engagement, the federal troops have continued their march toward Huamantla, state of Tlaxcala.

Hippolito Villa, brother of the late Francisco Villa, again is reported to have appeared before Obregon and declared his fealty to the federal government. Hacienda Guanajuato, Francisco Villa's estate on which several hundred of the picked troops of the former general are employed, was reported by Hippolito to be quiet and peaceful.

General of Division Eugenio Martinez has left the city of Mexico to take command of the campaign in Vera Cruz against the rebel forces in Vera Cruz. More than 1,000 farmers have volunteered to fight for the government in San Luis Potosi, according to a message received at the war department from General Vidal, chief of operations in that state, the advices received here stated.

General Francisco Merino was killed by soldiers who were taking him to Pachuca for trial when he "tried to escape." General Francisco Murguia also has fallen a victim to the Ley de Fuga, according to persistent reports.

He made no statement.

AID ASSOCIATION FOR LUTHERANS HAS PROSPEROUS YEAR

Big Increase in Membership, Insurance And Assets Reported at Annual Meeting

More than 5,000 members were gathered by the Aid Association for Lutherans during the past year and the amount of insurance was increased by $5,565,703, according to reports submitted by association officers to the board of directors at the 41st annual meeting here Thursday. All of the 18 directors were present.

The board was in session all day hearing reports and discussing business matters. Meetings were held in the directors' room on fifth floor of the Insurance bldg.

All the trustees and directors whose terms expired were reelected by big majorities. Ballots cast by branches in the country were tabulated and indicated that E. R. Schneider of Green Bay was returned as trustee for four years, and C. F. Schultz, Saginaw, Mich.; O. C. Rentner, Chicago, Ill., and Henry Kahmert, St. Paul, Minn., as directors for three years. William H. Zuehlke was the only officer whose term expired and he was reelected as treasurer. Otto C. Rentner was reelected as attorney for the association.

ISSUE NEW POLICY

Double indemnity will be paid policyholders whose death is accidental, or to those who are totally and permanently disabled, according to a decision of the board. A new policy covering this important change will be issued at once.

G. D. Ziegler, president of the association, presided at the sessions. He presented a report on the work of 52 agents showing that they wrote 5,652 applications during the year ending Oct. 1, with insurance amounting to $5,821,500. The association has extended its activities into South Dakota and California this year and has policyholders in 31 states. Licenses will be asked in every state this year.

Albert Voelck, managing secretary reviewed the remarkable progress of the last year in his report. He declared that the net membership on Dec. 29, 1923 was 53,175 and the insurance in force amounted to $51,525,721 as of that date. The association added 4,522 members holding life insurance policies and 720 having sick benefit certificates. The gain in the amount of insurance in force was $5,565,703. There were 124 deaths among members during the year, and claims paid to their beneficiaries amounted to $100,000. Gross financial receipts were $552,021.43, the largest part of which is premiums.

INCREASE ASSETS

Assets of the organization were increased $573,150.22 during 1923, the report of William H. Zuehlke, treasurer, showed. This brings the total assets up to $2,653,308.49, including the 8-story office building now occupied by the association. Disbursements for the year were $580,724.92.

Heart disease led the list of causes of deaths of policyholders. Dr. G. C. Hoyer, medical director, informed the board in his report. There were 19 deaths from this cause and pneumonia came next with 16. Tuberculosis was third on the list with 15 and cancer took 14 persons. Accidents resulted in 13 deaths, apoplexy 8, and the remainder were scattered over miscellaneous causes. Two suicides were reported.

Erection of Insurance bldg cost approximately $564,000, the report of the building committee said. The committee made its final report and asked to turn the maintenance of the structure over to the trustees. The report was accepted and the committee was discharged. A vote of thanks was tendered the committee for the manner in which this project was carried out.

The directors decided to meet in July instead of September next year so the two sessions of each year would not be so close together.

Those who attended the meeting were: G. D. Ziegler, Appleton, president; C. F. Hohenstein, Batavia, Ill., vice president; Albert Voelck, Appleton, managing secretary; William H. Zuehlke, Appleton, treasurer; Dr. G. C. Hoyer, Appleton, medical director; J. W. Grube, Hilbert; J. F. Schoettler, Appleton; E. R. Schneider, Green Bay; Otto C. Rentner, Chicago, attorney; Henry Hegner, Appleton; Albert Dahms, Minneapolis; Alex O. Benz, Fond du Lac; William F. Keim, St. Paul; Minn.; C. J. Schulz, Saginaw, Mich.; Robert A. Plog, Milwaukee; E. C. Tenebein, St. Louis; Mo.; A. H. Scheumann, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Henry Kahmert, St. Paul, Minn.

The directors tried out the new bowling alleys in the basement club-rooms before returning to their homes.

FINISH GILDING CROSS ON ST. MARY CHURCH SPIRE

F. J. Teske, who was awarded the contract for gilding the cross and painting the north steeple of St. Mary church, finished the work Thursday. He did the job without erecting a scaffold. The gold leaf was put on the cross without the aid of a canvas enclosure which has been used by previous steeples.

HEAVY CHRISTMAS MAIL CAUSES TRAINS TO BE LATE

The north bound mail train of the Northwestern Railway company was an hour and thirty minutes late Friday morning due to the heavy movement of Christmas parcels. Included in the train were nine cars of parcels post and express. Ten minutes were consumed in unloading Appleton's share of the shipment.

Passenger traffic has more than doubled within the last few days and all through night trains are now running in sections.

DAKOTA BACKS FORD DESPITE REFUSAL

By Associated Press
Pierre, S. D.—The South Dakota Ford for President movement will go steadily on in the absence of a direct refusal from Mr. Ford himself, to "qualify if nominated and elected," James F. Houlihan of Watertown, S. D., chairman of the South Dakota branch of the national Ford for President club declared in a statement to the Associated Press here Friday.

"Careful perusal of the full statement attributed to Mr. Ford that he would never for a moment think of running against Coolidge for president reveals the fact that he refers only to present situations and his attitude towards the candidacy of President Coolidge," the statement said.

FAVORS WIDOWS IN PENSION RULE

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Reversing a practice that has been followed many years in determining pensions for widows of Civil war and other veterans, Secretary Work in a decision Friday ruled that no widow shall be denied a pension where the essential facts are the same as those on which a husband was paid.

Heretofore a veteran's service record was investigated in adjudicating widows' claims and the pension bureau has on file hundreds of claims of widows who have been denied pensions under the same laws by which their husbands continued to draw a pension until death.

HUNDREDS WAIT TO HEAR FOX VERDICT

By Associated Press
Atlanta, Ga.—Hundreds of persons were in the court room and in corridors of the court building Friday awaiting a verdict in the case of Philip E. Fox, former Ku Klux Klan editor, charged with the murder of William S. Curn, a Klan attorney. The case went to the jury late Thursday night but it is understood, deliberations were not started until early Friday.

Fox was brought from the jail under a heavy guard and closeted in a room on an upper floor of the court building. He will not be brought into the court room until a verdict is reached, it was stated.

When court reconvened at 9 o'clock, all exhibits placed in evidence by both sides were carried to the jury room. These included the pistol used by the defendant when he shot Curn, the clothing worn by the attorney at the time he was shot, showing an alleged bullet hole in the back of the coat, and a long bladed knife taken from Fox after he was arrested.

GERMANS STAND TO HEAR MARSEILLAISE

By Associated Press
Zurich, Switzerland — There was a tense moment during the recent congress in this city of the International Cycling Union—when German and Austrian delegates met the French representatives—but it came out all right, for the Germans arose and stood at attention while a band played the "Marseillaise," the national anthem of France.

It was the first cycling congress since the war, and envoys of all three countries sat down around the same table to discuss the sport from an international standpoint. It devolved upon Mr. J. Breton, chief delegate for France, to make the closing address. It is the custom, at these gatherings, for the band to strike up the national anthem of the speaker's country as soon as he concludes.

While Mr. Breton was speaking the predominant thought was, what will the Germans do when the band plays

"Allons enfants de la patrie" What they did was to stand up, as did everyone else, and remain stiffly at attention until the music stopped. Everybody was greatly relieved.

"Sports are destined to bring the nations of Europe together on friendly terms quicker than the exchange of sugar-coated acid notes," Mr. Breton said later in the day, pointing to Walter Rutt, the veteran cyclist from Germany, chatting in an amiable manner with Gabriel Poulain, the forty-year-old champion of France.

PHILIPPINE JUDGES MUST INSPECT JAILS

By Associated Press
Manila—Hereafter judges of the Philippine courts will be required to make monthly inspections of the jails in their respective provinces to which they sentence convicted persons and submit a report to the Secretary of Justice of the conditions of those jails.

A law requiring such inspections has been in effect for some time but the practice of making the inspections has fallen into disuse. Acting Secretary of Justice Torres has called attention to the law through a circular issued to all judges of the first instance. He requests the judges to resume inspections and submit reports so the department of justice may be in position to know the conditions of all jails and keep them up to required standards.

The judges, in their monthly reports, are required to comment on jail conditions, and submit recommendations for improvement if needed.

GOOD ROADS PAY DIVIDENDS

In this era of good roads and multitudinous automobiles one hears much discussion of tourists and touring, of how much "tourist trade" is worth to a community. Mr. George Merkel, caretaker of Alicia park, Appleton's free tourist camp, recently presented some interesting figures on this much discussed subject. His figures, prove that it is impossible to estimate even approximately the money that tourists spend in towns through which they pass or in which they stop.

Merkel asked the 1,500 tourist parties that stopped in the city camp to state the amounts they spent while in the city and the total they reported is nearly $12,000, or an average of about $8 per tourist party. The 1,500 tourists at the campsite was only a small portion of the total number of pleasure seekers who stopped in Appleton for a night. Thousands more remained in Appleton hotels, other thousands stopped here for meals and refreshments, and hordes of motorists purchased gasoline, tires, oil, clothing and incidentals here.

There is good reason to believe that tourists who lived in hotels while they stopped in Appleton spent more money here than those who camped at Alicia park. No accurate estimate of the number of tourists that stopped in hotels is available but it is believed to be much greater than the number of campers. What these tourists who stopped in hotels spent in Appleton cannot be estimated, but it was a large sum.

The great tourist traffic through the Fox river valley and through Wisconsin is due to the splendid system of roads maintained here. The few and fragmentary figures available on the value of tourist business proves one thing and that is that good roads return a real cash dividend on the money that is invested in them. If well kept highways did no more than increase the contentment and the prosperity of those who built them they would be worthwhile but when they return a substantial dividend on the money put in them they are more than a convenience. Good roads in this state pay a dividend into pockets of the men and women who pay taxes to build and maintain them.

WE PAY THE PRICE

"I have always maintained that no crime pays. Ninety-five per cent of criminals die in debt, and generally in want. When the criminal's time comes for punishment, he generally leaves his family in actual distress." This observation is one of the conclusions of a long life, always in close contact with crime. Mr. William A. Pinkerton, the detective, who died last week, made it.

The common, unwritten law applying to criminals applies likewise to those offenders against nature and society who stay beyond the arm of the police and the vision of the court. It applies also to those who make innocent mistakes and those who deliberately commit wrong. In the criminal's case, his gains are all losses, while in the case of others there is similar retribution.

The bent to crime is, in probably most instances, a mental deficiency. The criminal is defective. None of us can afford to be a pharisee, for every one is deficient in one way or another—physically mentally or morally. Each of us is breaking some law. Each of us has some weakness, some vagary, some idiosyncrasy. Moral responsibility is a personal question. But the law which Mr. Pinkerton noted in connection with criminals we may note in operation all about us.

FORD FOR COOLIDGE

Mr. Ford's announcement that he is for Calvin Coolidge for president will bring distress to the Chicago Tribune and Hiram Johnson, but it will hearten the man of character in the White house and level-headed Americans throughout the country. Mr. Ford's statement is all that could be desired to the one who will benefit by it. He is for Mr. Coolidge for nomination and election without any ifs, ands or butts.

Mr. Ford's influence in the presidential campaign will be material. There is no denying the fact. We think it will be greater for the man to whom it is thrown than it would be for his own candidacy. There are many people in the United States who might be for Ford himself who nevertheless would rely upon his judgment in support of another, particularly one of Mr. Coolidge's type and temperament. There are certain solid qualities about Mr. Harding's successor the Detroit industrialist is not supposed to possess, especially by those who have sought to connect him with anomalies like the farmer and labor movement and some more or less radical measures. Mr. Ford's statement goes to disprove this theory and augments the strength of his personal endorsement.

The reasons Mr. Ford gives for his position can hardly fail to meet with widespread public approval. They are simple and to the point, and contain more argument in a few sentences that will appeal to common sense and sober reflection than tons of words from our Hiram Johnson's and our nimblejacks. Mr. Ford is no reactionary. He is financially and economically our most powerful industrialist, yet he is a genuine reformer. When he tells the country that he considers Mr. Coolidge both safe and sane and that the best prospect for improvement and prosperity lies in retaining him in the presidency, that will carry a long way with people of all classes.

It might be going too far, and it doubtless would be premature, to say that this endorsement insures the nomination and election of Mr. Coolidge, but we believe it would be safe to say that as the situation now stands, it does. Anything is possible in politics, and a great deal may happen between now and convention and election days, but even allowing for the thundering guns, powder and smoke of Hiram, Magnus, Hendrik and Robert M. we do not think it will be enough to seriously upset these indications. The trend is decidedly the other way. Our balance wheel is commencing to get in its work.

AS THE PEOPLE WILL

When the people render their decision in a representative government, their will must be obeyed. If their verdict is not carried out, the government is not representative, not republican. This is the thought that applies to the situation which prevails in Great Britain.

The Conservatives are loathe to allow the Laborite party to assume charge of the government. Their leaders are urging Stanley Baldwin to retain the premiership as long as possible, and even to form a coalition with the Liberals in order to prevent Ramsay MacDonald from ascending to the place of prime minister. The Liberals are bent on ousting the Conservatives, they are willing to have the Laborites take command of the ship of state.

Britain has three political parties. Neither represents a majority of the people. Each is a minority unit. Under Conservative rule the Liberals and Laborites jointly are the majority under Laborite administration the Conservatives and Liberals will constitute the majority.

From every standpoint of good policy and principle there is only one fair and wise course. This is to permit the Laborites, which are second in numbers, to exercise the power they are entitled to exercise.

THE COLD DASH

These "chilly" mornings it is pleasant to lie abed and consider, again, whether one knows anything, after all, by taking a cold bath, plunge, sponge, dash or shower. Is there any virtue in subjecting one's skin to the shock of cold water at any time when warmth is a natural preference? Is the cold bath habit good for us for no better reason than that which makes castor oil so good for young 'uns, namely, because they just naturally hate to take the horrid medicine?

Next to getting up early in the morning there is nothing so abhorrent to me as the thought of cold water on my warm skin the early part of the day. I'd never make a good hero in a novel, for if I voluntarily took any baths at all in the morning, I'd have 'em nice and warm or fire the butler or valet or which ever appearance of a complete gentleman gets the bath ready in the morning, or better, I'd say: "Hawkins, you have the bath ready," and then Hawkins replied: "Yes, sir, very good sir." I'd turn over in bed and say, "Very well, then, Hawkins, you may bathe in it."

But notwithstanding my own antipathy for cold baths, cannot compel me to say that some kind of morning punishment akin to a cold bath is a beautiful habit, as well as valuable discipline for young folks in general, provided always that a pleasant glow of warmth and cheer comes as a reaction after the punishment.

Some folks stay young a lot longer than others do; we may as well humor them in their ideal advocacy of the maternal cold bath as a means of preserving youth. There may be something in that argument. To my mind it is like thinking a man stays young because he hasn't lost any of his hair.

I believe in exposure to cold, wet, drafts, wind and all that sort of thing as a healthful habit of living, so long as one experiences no disagreeable blues, depression or discomfort from the experience. I think it would be unwise for one to expose himself to any of these conditions if he suffers any such discomfort from the experience. It is the same with regard to cold baths, or going in swimming.

The effect of dashing, sprinkling or spraying cold water upon the face, neck, chest or back of one in a bath is well known. It produces a gasp, which helps to revive the subject from the syncope. This gasp is brought about through what physicians call reflex action: the cold water makes an impression on the terminals of the nerves which give sensation to the skin an impulse is carried by these nerves to the breathing center in the medulla, and close beside it an impulse is sent out (reflected) along the vagus (tenth cranial or pneumogastric) nerves to the lungs, causing them to expand suddenly; other impulses are sent out along the vasomotor nerves causing contraction of the arterioles in the mucous membranes of the head, throat and chest. This latter effect accounts for the well established value of morning cold dashes of water over face, throat and chest in various chronic troubles of the upper respiratory tract.

The morning cold dash, sponge, spray or shower bath is a healthy habit for those who do so or can enjoy it.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Tuberculosis In The Home

A month ago a mother brought home from a sanitarium her 23 year old daughter, who has tuberculosis. In the house, which has no toilet or running water, live the parents and two children, 10 and 12 years old, both of whom are now in good health. What a wonder! Do you think there is great possibility of an inveterate in the house will become infected with tuberculosis? Can the disease be taken from an exhalation of the breath?—B. M. E.

Answer—The other two children already have it, you say. The father and mother may not be susceptible, that is, they may be able to withstand developing active tuberculosis. If the patient is intelligent and able to be careful, she need not be a menace to anybody. She has probably learned at the sanitarium how to be careful—careful about the disposal of her sputum and about covering her mouth when she talks and about covering her nose and mouth when she coughs or sneezes. With intelligence and ordinary cleanliness there is no danger from tuberculosis in the home. The disease is not in the breath or exhalation.

Cancer Of The Breast

Kindly send all possible information regarding cancer of the breast, cause, symptoms, treatment and cure.—Mrs. C. G.

Answer—You may obtain an authoritative pamphlet on cancer of the breast by sending 10 cents for it to the American Medical Association, 535 N. Dearborn-st., Chicago, Ill.

P. C. Catarrh

I have catarrh of the nose, especially after meals. Would you advise going to a doctor, or is there a specific medicine for catarrh? If not treated, will it develop into any other diseases?—G. L.

Answer—There is no such disease. I gather that there is some trouble in nose or throat which is most manifest after a good meal. Better not make stabs at it but go to a physician and let him examine you and find out.

Ah she was a heavenly sight.

My heart was filled with longing
For I loved her with all my might;
I saw her in the morning;
Gawd! She was a fright!

Sensation Akin To Monotony Causes Sleep

(From The Journal of the American Medical Association.)

Probably the most popular explanation of falling asleep has assumed an anemia of the brain, due to fatigue at the end of the day's activities. Innumerable schemes to "draw away blood" from the brain so as to create a cerebral anemia, supposedly favorable to sleep, are familiar to every physician. Who, indeed, has not now and then attempted to apply the idea in advice to a patient complaining of insomnia? It will be a disappointment to many, therefore, to learn that, contrary to Mosso's assertion, there is probably a plethora rather than a deficit of blood in the brain during sleep.

As for the vasomotor center, furthermore, in Kleitman's observations at the physiologic laboratory of the University of Chicago, it was impossible to detect any loss of tone even after 115 hours of wakefulness, or seven times the normal 16-hour period. The low blood-pressure obtained during the insomnia periods was partly due to a slowed heart, and both the slowed heart and low blood-pressure were due to muscular relaxation in the lying position, and were absent when the subject was seated.

Another favorite theory of the genesis of sleep involves the alleged "auto-intoxication with the products of wakefulness." Chemical compounds supposedly arising as the result of fatigue, fatigue toxins, have lost their popularity of late as sponsors for bodily changes. Kleitman found that a large variety of measurable factors—blood-sugar, alkali reserve of the blood and plasma, percentage of hemoglobin, percentage of corpuscles, red and white blood cell count, body weight, basal metabolic rate, appetite, temperature, ability to name letters and to do mental arithmetic—showed no variations from normal during the period of sleeplessness. There is no evidence of an intoxication.

Furthermore, while it is true that fatigue will accelerate the onset of sleep, a person can fall asleep when not fatigued at all, and idlers have no difficulty in falling asleep at the usual hour, or at any hour.

The onset of sleep is probably due to complete muscular relaxation, voluntary or involuntary. We have found that a large variety of measurable factors—blood-sugar, alkali reserve of the blood and plasma, percentage of hemoglobin, percentage of corpuscles, red and white blood cell count, body weight, basal metabolic rate, appetite, temperature, ability to name letters and to do mental arithmetic—showed no variations from normal during the period of sleeplessness. There is no evidence of an intoxication.

Kleitman concludes that when a person lies down the visual sensations soon become monotonous, and muscular relaxation, removing the greater part of the proprioceptive impulses, precipitates what we call sleep.

MATT SCHMIDT & SON
"TWO FLOORS OF GOOD THINGS TO WEAR"

A new idea, this, that there is apt to be something physically at fault with the person who remembers too much of the past, especially of the unpleasant. Strong, healthy people seem to be able to forget the unpleasant things of life—dismiss them from their minds as we discard old rubbish, not worthy any further thought.

The unhealthy, particularly the brooding neurasthenics, garden their troubles. They keep disappointing memories in mind, nurse and coax them along, like the person who "enjoys poor health." The art of forgetting within reasonable bounds is as desirable an accomplishment as the development of memory. All of us have rough burrs and heartaches in life. If we were not able to forget them, existence would become a dismal drab.

Memory has to do with the past. The man with keen memory is often anchored back yonder. Quite the reverse in the case of the man who has the ability to forget; he has rung down the final curtain on the past and is living in the present and for the future. Europe's chief trouble just now is the inability to forget the prejudices, the hates, the injuries of the past.

Forgetting is not an accident. It is an effort of the will power, the easier for us to blot out the past from our unconscious minds. The jovial healthy persons with the art of forgetting has a great advantage. He may not be able to entirely ignore the unpleasantness of life as they come along, but at least he does not meet them with a magnifying glass. A good memory is most valuable when accompanied by a good forgettiness.

The Question Box

Q. How many books are sold in Washington? T. H. R.

A. Last year, approximately 2,500,000 books were sold. Estimating the population at 450,000, each person bought an average of 5 or 6 books.

Q. Is a lapped and riveted corner seam, or a butt welded corner seam stronger? E. J. B.

A. The Bureau of Standards says a butt welded joint in soft steel plates can be made practically the strength of the material. The weld may be made either by the electric arc or the oxy-acetylene process and the plates should be welded from both sides. A riveted joint is weaker than the plates due to the holes in the plates. Usually the strength of riveted joints is about one-half or two-thirds of the plate.

Q. Who invented cribbage? E. E. S.

A. According to John Aubrey in his "Brief Lives," the game of cribbage was invented by Sir John Suckling, who lived from 1602 to 1642.

Q. Cut flowers never seem to live long in our vases. Can you explain why? F. C.

A. Any one of the following may be the cause: hot or cold draughts of air; a stuffy room; smoke or fumes such as those from coal or illuminating gas; insufficient watering; too many flowers in one vase; stems not cut daily; or leaving in warm room over night.

Q. How many people enter Chicago daily by railway? A. H. H.

A. In the course of 24 hours, 1,439 passenger trains bearing an army of 192,000 passengers enter and leave Chicago, the terminal of 39 lines including 22 railroad systems.

Q. Name the four fastest typists in the world? J. A. P.

A. In the last World's Championship Typewriting Contest held in New York City, October 22, 1923, the first four operators in point of speed were: Albert Tangora, 70 words per minute; George Hoesfeld, 145 words; Bessie Friedeman, 143; George Gaskill, 137.

Q. Who invented wall paper with continuous repeated design? T. W.

A. Jean Papillon, the second wood engraver to bear the name, was the first to plan and execute continuous repeating designs in wall papers, marching on the sides that sheet that was placed next to it. There were first used in 1832 and were soon an established fashion.

Q. Do Niagara Falls ever freeze over? E. C. G.

A. The Falls themselves never freeze over, though the river above or below them sometimes fills with ice. In certain severe winters, notably 1856, 1860, and 1875, ice islands have formed, and have been considered as to construct an ice bridge over half of the American rapids. Only the very bold sightseer, however, would risk viewing the Falls from these bridges of ice which might collapse at any moment.

Q. Where does the straw braid used in hats come from? A. R. G.

A. In the United States straw hats are made from braid that is chiefly imported from Italy, China and Japan. Of the various materials which go into the fabrication of plaited hat-gear the most important is wheat straw. The straw must have a length of "pipe" between the knots and must possess a clear delicate golden color and must not be brittle. The most valuable straw is from Tuscany and from the Tuscan plait the Leghorn hats are made. Many substances besides straw are used in braids for hats and bonnets. Among these may be noticed willow and cane, as well as palm. The famous Panama hats are made from the leaves of the screw pine.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

(Unless otherwise specified, these recipes are planned for four persons.)

PLUM PUDDING

Plum pudding seems almost as much a part of Christmas as candy. And while we are usually so surfeited with good things before we get to the plum pudding stage a bit of rich "mummy" pudding is needed to make the dinner perfect.

Formerly a most intriguing delicacy was given to the pudding by pouring brandy over the mold and sending it to the table in fascinating blue flames. Now we must fill the pudding so "chuck full" of richness that this flavor is not missed.

A rich pudding can be steamed and kept almost indefinitely. This makes another delightful Christmas gift from out of the kitchen. Steam the pudding intended for gifts in small bowls, unmoiled and drape them in sparkling paper and tie with red ribbon bows threaded with holly.

All fruit should be cleaned, seeded or skinned before beginning to mix the pudding.

The true English plum pudding is boiled in a floured pudding bag. However, we prefer to steam our puddings in attractive molds suitable to send to the table garnished with holly or in tiny individual molds.

The pudding may be as rich as desired. The first rule is for a rich rich delicious pudding that can be kept indefinitely.

PLUM PUDDING

Two cups cleaned currants, 2 cup seeded raisins, 1 cup candied orange peel shredded, 1 cup shredded citron, 1 cup suet (1/2 pound), 3 cups stale bread crumbs, 4 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon cloves, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cup brown sugar, 4 tablespoons molasses, 1/2 cup flour, 2 tablespoons currant jelly, 1 tablespoon strong cold coffee.

Chop fruit and suet with flour. Add bread crumbs and mix well. Beat yolks of eggs until thick and lemon-colored and add to first mixture. Add spices, salt, sugar, molasses, jelly and coffee and mix well. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry and fold into mixture. Turn into a large buttered melon mold or buttered bowls, cover with a floured cloth fastened securely and steam two and one-half hours. Steam again when wanted to use the same length of time. Serve 12 persons.

PUDDING SAUCE

Two eggs (yolks), 1 cup powdered sugar, 1 cup whipping cream, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat yolks of eggs with sugar until very light. Whip cream and add to mixture. Beat well and add vanilla.

PLAIN PLUM PUDDING

(Without Eggs)

One cup suet, 1 cup chopped and seeded raisins, 1 cup sweet milk, 1 cup molasses, 3 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 2 teaspoons cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon grated nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon cloves.

More fruit can be added if desired and one cup of chopped and blanched almonds.

Mix fruit and suet chopped fine with molasses. Add soda and stir until foamy. Add milk and flour mixed and sifted with salt, spices and cream of tartar. Mix thoroughly and turn into a well-buttered mold. Steam four hours.

This recipe is calculated to serve eight persons.

SHAMROCK GIRL SCOUTS HELP CITY'S CHARGES

JUNGLE OF JAZZ!

That's Society Today---Slaving, Befuddled, Vainly Trying To Escape---Is View Of Author

New York—A jungle—that's Fannie Hurst's summum opus of society today.

"Just walk into any cabaret, and you find a dense, tropical atmosphere thick with smoke, perfume and powder," the famous author declares. "You find people huddled together in a small space, choked on all sides by more people. You find young and old women only slightly more covered than our Mother Eve. Everywhere you are made conscious of the appeal only to the physical side of our natures."

"People are trapped and befuddled and hemmed, as if they were animals in a tropical swamp."

I asked her if this applied only to New York.

"Certainly not," she replied. "New York is only the big jungle—the one the others pattern after. But smaller cities are smaller jungles, a little less obvious, possibly, but more vicious when you get beneath the surface."

"Jazz dancing, barbaric music and physical excitement—in these we seek an escape from life, using no more intelligence than the beasts do trying to escape from the jungle."

THE WAY OUT

Personal achievement and an individual solution of one's problems is the only way of escape Miss Hurst believes in. She thinks we are all trying to cut our lives from the same pattern.

"We ought to avoid the tyranny of unimportant things," she went on. "To become a slave to a large establishment because of a belief in a social position, or bowing to useless conventions just because your neighbors do, will keep you in the jungle. Her own apartment, though not large, is most satisfying, with its Italian furniture and hangings and quantities of books."

"I never want a home so big I can't shut it when I want to, and go vagabonding around seeing new faces and touching new lives," she said.

"I don't care for new things," she told me, when I admired a particular beautiful hanging. "They haven't the mellow, aged feeling I like in materials and in wood. My tastes are for old Italian and Spanish things, with edges rounded, the shine off and the colors toned down from their flamboyancy. I'm that way about people, too. I like them pleasantly tired from real contact with life rather than struggling to be eternal Peter Pan."

THERE'S HOPE

In her new book, "Lummock," Miss Hurst devotes a chapter to the jungle aspect of modern life, and does an impressionistic picture of a fashionable dance.

"But don't make me out a croak er," she concludes. "Things go in cycles and we are living today in a time of strife between Puritanical standards and the opposite. We are tearing down false gods and everywhere clay feet are protruding."

"And some of us are suffering from an embarrassment of riches after the war."

"But we are sound at heart, and we'll find our way out of the jungle in time."

Children Play St. Nick For Needy Family

A lovely Christmas party took place in the second grade of the first ward school for the Brown family on Friday afternoon. The Brown family is the one which the second grade is providing with Christmas cheer this year. Although that is not the real name of the family, it has been sufficient for the children who have been calling themselves the Browns.

For many days the children have been bringing all sorts of gifts for the Brown children whose needs they know very well. They have had the measurements of each Brown child's shoes, gloves and underwear and have made every effort to make things these children can use. Besides that they have brought necessities and food stuffs so that Mrs. Brown will not have to worry about the Christmas dinner.

The party for the Browns was a highly imaginative affair. This afternoon, one of the little girls taking the part of St. Nick, Mrs. Brown who had just put all the children to bed and was sitting because there would be no Christmas for her flock. Then the brownies arrived bringing with them the real Santa Claus, a Christmas tree and all the packages for the little Browns.

All of these things will be taken to the family which the children have known as the "Brown family," the day before Christmas. What things had to be purchased for the family came out of the "fun" box that the grade has. The idea of the "fun" fund is to give "fun" to someone outside the grade.

Miss Mertie Culbertson is the teacher.

Warm negligees for cold days are made of changeable silk, lined with wool and silk and quilted like the old frocks.

Velvet And Ermine

Velvets and ermine—traditionally royal—are both royal popular this season. Velvet is most in demand for afternoon and evening frocks, but many striking street costumes have been made of this material as well.

Ermine is used for trimming in lavish lengths and the frock illustrated shows how very effective the most popular fur may be on the most popular material, when made in the most recent Paris fashion.

The model is an adaptation of the very long tunic frock called the Casaque or Cassack.

fashioned quilt. Sometimes they are a further illusion of warmth by bands of fluffy fur.

ELBOW BRACELETS

Imitation ivory bracelets have Egyptian designs in colors, or in black and white and are worn above the elbow.

VELVET HATS

Small velvet hats look very smart with applied designs of self-toned suede about the crown.

FIGURED GEORGETTE

Figured georgette makes attractive collars and cuffs for plain silk frocks.

PARTIES

Lee C. Rasey was host to the men teachers of Appleton high school at an informal gathering at his home, 834 Prospect st., Thursday evening. Cards was played.

The Christmas dance of the sports council of Appleton Women's club will take place at Armory G on Friday evening. Music will be furnished by Gib Hest's orchestra.

St. Paul Lutheran Young Peoples society will hold a Christmas party in the school hall Friday evening. It will follow the basketball game between St. Paul team and a Neenah outfit at the Y. M. C. A. at 8 o'clock, and games and stunts will be enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Rath, 1111 Parkhurst st., were surprised Thursday evening on their second wedding anniversary by a number of friends. The evening was spent with cards and music. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Wilt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sommers, Mr. and Mrs. John Pelke, Mrs. Charles Kruse, Charles Wilt, Lucile and Herbert Wilt, Rumbold and Emil Sommers, Herman Schmalink and Henry Kruse.

Twenty-three girls employed in the Traction Co. office were entertained at a Christmas party Thursday evening at the Ambler Pe-Tee Shop. Dinner was served at 4 o'clock, after which the girls exchanged gifts. The group went to the theater after the dinner.

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ashman surprised them at their home in Center Wednesday evening on the occasion of their fifth wedding anniversary. Music, parlor games and cards composed the entertainment of the evening.

A considerable number of persons attended the box social and Christmas program in Woodlark school Thursday evening. The party was arranged by Mrs. Anna Reed, teacher. The proceeds, amounting to more than $12, will be used to buy equipment for the school.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS GIVE PARTY FOR CHILDREN

Many boys and girls between ages of four and ten years will be made glad on Saturday afternoon at the party which the camp fire girls and girl scouts are giving for them. Each girl in all of the groups will have as her guest some small child.

A program of games and stunts will be culminated by the appearance of Santa Claus. There will be a present for each child and the usual Christmas goodies.

Fred Hoffman visited friends at Fremont Friday.

No Body Works But Father At Church Party

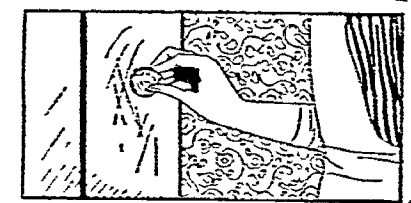

Declaring that the water burned while they were preparing the meal for the women of St. Johns church, but that everything else was "fine and dandy," the men of the church served a supper consisting of mashed potatoes, roast pork, sauerkraut, pea a la mode and coffee to about 150 guests. The men did all the work, and even washed the dishes at the close of the meal.

After the supper, a social hour with music, talks and singing was enjoyed. B. Weiss acted as toastmaster and Mrs. Edward Seig and Mrs. Charles Freiberg gave brief talks. B. Weiss and J. D. Ross sang a duet, Mr. Ross sang a solo. Mrs. Freiberg and Mrs. W. R. Wetzler sang a duet and Max Krausch sang a solo.

Household Suggestions

MATCH MARKS

The marks on paint made by scratching matches there, may be removed by rubbing them with a cut lemon.

WHALEBONE

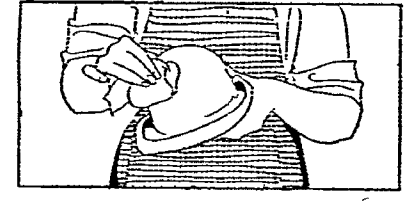

If you wish to straighten whale bone, soak it in warm water until it is pliable, then press with a warm iron.

PORCELAIN LEAK

A leak in a porcelain washbowl may be mended temporarily with tallow from a candle until the plumber can fix it permanently.

CLEANING FELT HATS

To clean white felt or velvet hats mix one-half cup of borax, one-half cup of cornmeal and one-half cup of flour and rub this well into the hat. Let it stand that way a day or two before brushing it off.

Children Work Hard For Moose Yule Program

Children who participate in the program that the Loyal Order of Moose and Women of Moose Legion are arranging for the Christmas party Sunday night in Moose Temple are practicing industriously so that a creditable performance may be given. The children are to meet at 2:30 Saturday afternoon in the temple for a final rehearsal. On cards that were sent to all children of Moose, it was promised that Santa Claus would be present on Sunday night and bring candy, nuts and apples for all.

CLUB MEETINGS

Mrs. Daniel Hoh entertained the Club of Twelve at a Christmas party at her home 598 Harrison st., Tuesday evening. A Santa Claus gave each member a gift. Prizes at dice were won by Mrs. C. Ratzman, Mrs. E. Ter-now and Mrs. H. Reinke.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

License to marry has been applied for by Edward Bauer and Mary A. Doerfler, both of Appleton.

Santa Claus Will Visit Sunday Cozey

If each girl of the recreation department of Appleton Women's club brings a small guest to the cozey at the clubhouse Sunday afternoon, Santa Claus will come. This annual children's party has proved one of the most popular of all the recreation department's activities.

The small children and the girls who bring them have an hilarious time at the party when Santa Claus arrives. There will be a Christmas tree and the usual Christmas values.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Christmas carols a Christmas tree and gifts were the main features of the Christmas party given in Methodist Episcopal church parlors Thursday evening for the Young Married People's group. Dr. J. A. Holmes read from King's poems. The members left gifts at the church after the party so that they might be distributed to needy families.

Miss Viola Bell of Olinville, has arrived in Appleton to spend the holidays with relatives.

IOWA WAS BIGGEST BUYERS OF BADGER COWS IN NOVEMBER

More Than 6,000 Cattle Sold From Wisconsin Farms Last Month

A lively demand for dairy cattle during the month of November is noted by A. C. Collette, of the Wisconsin college of agriculture, in his monthly dairy cattle report.

Records show that 6159 head of dairy cattle were moved out of the state during November, Iowa was the largest buyer, importing 1855 head into the Hawkeye state. Illinois ran a close second with 1707 while Minnesota with 1410 head was in third place. Canada, Ohio, Mexico and Central America representatives purchased 215 head to be exported to their respective countries. Nebraska, New York, North Dakota, South Dakota, Georgia, Connecticut, and Kansas were the other leading buyers of the month.

The big demand for dairy cattle is partially due to the call for animals to replace those lost by being slaughtered after reacting to the tuberculosis test. Collette declared. Figures show that 15,477 head reacted during last month, the largest percentage of which were dairy animals.

In the single crop areas dairy herds are being established and the demand from this quarters continues to flourish. Growers in the corn, wheat, cotton, tobacco, fruit and alfalfa sections are looking to the dairy cow more and more as a way out of their financial difficulties.

SEEK QUALITY STOCK

A check-up on purebred sales held during the month shows buyers patronizing liberally where quality stock predominated. Spirited bidding characterized a few sales, with top prices reaching $2,000 for bulls with cows topping at $500. The buyer is discriminating against off-type stock, especially when he goes over the $200 mark. The average of recent sales also indicate that the buyer has shown a decided preference for stock backed by test records.

Some of the best references ever available here on the railroad and general transportation situation are six pamphlets received by the cham-

SECRETARY DAVIS TALKS TO BUILDERS

When Appleton Master Builders attend their state convention in Fond du Lac Jan. 9 to 11, they will hear Secretary James J. Davis of the United States department of labor speak on the question of Immigration and Labor Problems.

Last year the state convention of Master Builders was held in Appleton, and a feature of that meeting was a debate on Non-employment Insurance, with Senator Huber and F. H. Clausen as principals.

The delegates will take their wives to the convention, and a number of entertainments have been planned for them. The association will take over the Garrick theater one evening and a banquet is to be held at one of the hotels on Jan. 9.

Among questions to be discussed are: Unemployment, apprenticeship and compulsory automobile liability insurance.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. They contain the report of six committees which made an exhaustive study of this problem throughout the country as a whole, with recommendations for remedies which would increase efficiency and strengthen credit.

These reports were prepared in advance of a transportation conference which will deal with this situation.

One deals with government relations; another with railroad consolidation; a third with readjustment of freight rate schedules; relation of highway and motor transportation to other transportation agencies; development of waterways and coordination of rail and waterway service. A joint subcommittee prepared the sixth report on taxation of transportation agencies.

DANCE ORDINANCE EFFECTIVE HERE BEFORE NEW YEARS

County Supervisors Will Appoint Temporary Inspectors Of Dance Halls

The dance hall ordinance which was passed a few weeks ago by the county board of supervisors will probably become effective by Jan. 1 and possibly before that date. All the necessary forms for bonds for inspectors, application blanks, licenses, permits, etc., have been prepared by John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney, and now await the order of the county printing committee.

That committee is scheduled to hold a meeting at the courthouse on Monday, Dec. 24, in order to let contracts for printing the forms. Official publication of the ordinance in the Appleton Post-Crescent will be withheld until the forms are printed. With the publication, the ordinance becomes effective.

Because the county board adjourned without appointing inspectors, each

COMMITTEE PREPARING 1924 BUDGET FOR Y. M. C. A.

The financial report of the Y. M. C. A. for 1922, with the month of December estimated, has been submitted to the new budget committee composed of A. R. Eads, James A. Wood and George H. Packard and will form the basis of the budget to be worked out for next year. It is possible the new budget will not exceed the old one.

county supervisor will have to make a temporary appointment of an inspector to serve until the next meeting of the board. It is expected that some of the supervisors will serve themselves and others may select their men from deputy sheriffs.

If the law goes into effect before Jan. 1, it means that all dance halls in the county and all public dances will have to close promptly at 1 o'clock on New Year's eve. It is also possible that there will be no dancing on Sunday, Dec. 30.

ASSOCIATION OF AUTOMOBILE MEN KEEP COSTS DOWN

Manufacturers Exchange Patents And Information To Help Each Other

One essential reason for the marked decrease in automobile prices, compared with those of 10 or 15 years ago, is the existence of an agreement among manufacturers for the mutual exchange and use of one another's patent rights.

Another is the increased standardization of automotive parts.

Years ago automobile manufacturers bucked one another. Then, with the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers in control, those who were members had to pay heavy royalties to one group controlling certain essential patents for use of parts without which they could hardly put out a successful car.

In 1900 the National Association of Automobile Manufacturers was formed to combat this control. Ford also took a hand in this fight, until in 1912 the A. L. A. M. was broken up by the courts.

NEW ORGANIZATION

Then it was that the N. A. M. grew into the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, now existing, and began adding to its old membership those who had been paying royalties into the old A. L. A. M. Now there are 84 passenger car and 59 truck manufacturers in the N. A. C. C., all reaping the benefits of one another's inventions.

Every invention and patent has to be disclosed to the N. A. C. C. by a manufacturer becoming a member, and this information is open to the other membership for their consideration and adoption.

Thus with interchanging patent rights, and more friendly intercourse, the automobile manufacturers have been able to lower their prices considerably.

Standardization has helped them further. In this, the Society of Automotive Engineers has had great influence. Years ago it was the A. L. A. M. rating by which manufacturers built their cars. Now the S. A. E. rating prevails.

From nuts and bolts to axles and springs and important parts of the engine, dimensions of automotive parts have been standardized. With the result that these parts could be made in large quantities to justify a marked decrease in their cost. And lower cost of such standardized parts has brought lower prices for the finished product.

The S. A. E. is continuing its work of standardization, so that automobile owners may expect even further cuts in prices than the remarkable reductions made lately.

F. W. MISSLING BUYS SIRE FROM STEFFENSEN

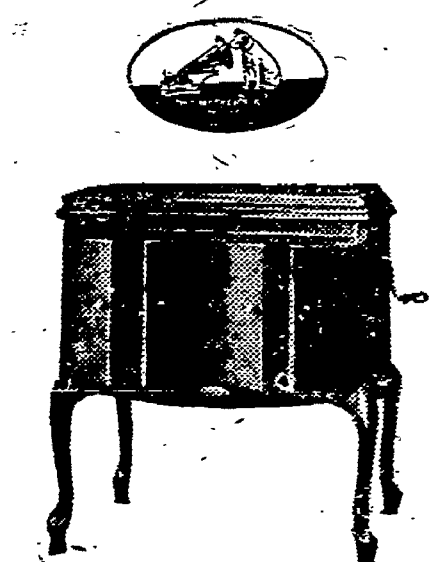

F. W. Missling of Hortonville, has purchased one of the young-purebred bulls from the Holstein herd owned by W. H. Steffensen of Appleton. He will use the bull as a foundation sire for his herd of 29 pedigreed Holsteins.

This bull is the second calf from a dam having a production record of 32 pounds of butter in a 7-day test and Mr. Missling expects to increase the value of his herd by building up the productiveness of his cows.

He abandoned scrub cattle six years ago and has had excellent success with purebred animals. His herd led the Ellington Cow Testing association for one year.

Would Change Indian School To AG College

Another plan for utilizing the Indian school at Oneida has been formed, that of converting the property into an agricultural school for Outagamie and Brown cos. It is understood that John Callahan, state superintendent of schools succeeded in having the school taken from the real estate market so that it will be available for the farm-school.

The Indian school has not been in operation for five years, the few remaining Indian children on the reservation preferring to go to the schools with the other children. It buildings are surrounded by 120 acres of land. Because it is located near the borders of the two counties, Mr. Callahan thinks it would be ideal for the country farm interests.

24 MILLION POUNDS OF CHEESE IN STATE IN 1923

Wisconsin's 1923 output of cheese will reach probably 24,000,000 pounds, according to estimates of members of the Wisconsin Cheese Producers' Federation. Last year's production amounted to 20,000,000, statistics of the federation show, and this is expected to be beaten by twenty per cent this year. The Badger state produced 10 per cent of the nation's cheese output last year, records show.

Practically every state in the nation has received cheese through the state federation this year, officials report. New York state, once the leader of the nation in cheese production, is among the receivers of Wisconsin cheese, it is said. California on the other coast, has been another large buyer from the federation.

LOGGING HELD UP BY LACK OF SNOW

Very little pulpwood and very few logs are arriving in Appleton at present and no rush of shipments is expected until the latter part of January.

W. B. Baring, general agent of the Northwestern Railway company, has returned from a trip to the northern part of the state and says there are large quantities of pulpwood and logs to ship, but that logging operations are temporarily held up by the absence of snow.

The camps have been operating at full capacity, he said, but within the last two weeks quite a number of the men have been released until conditions become more favorable.

CONSIDER ENLARGEMENT OF OSHKOSH GOLF LINKS

Following the example of Appleton golf sports who have laid out an 18-hole golf course, the Oshkosh Country club has appointed a committee to look into the matter and secure estimates on the cost of enlarging their nine-hole course to regular standard. Some time ago the club purchased additional land adjoining its present golf links.

Patterned to Your Motor's Needs

THE "open market" of crude petroleum offers the refiner a hodge-podge of good, poor, fair, bad and middling quality—as variable and mixed up as the range of goods from which clothes could be cut.

Snatching into this grab-bag for whatever is cheapest, or nearest or easiest, and then topping this by deliberately applying cheapening and profit-forcing methods to the refining—that makes a combination standing as much chance to produce fit fuel for your motor as a sweat-shop does to meet your idea of suit values.

Wadham's True Gasoline

Is tailored from a different stripe. There is "all wool and a yard wide" to be had in petroleum—first grade, genuinely gasoline bearing crude—and it is from the cream of this that Wadham's raw material is picked.

It is refined by selective non-cheapened methods—measured, fitted and patterned to your motor's needs by the simple straight run process that no modern science has learned to improve.

It has no shortcomings of power, nor blemishes of foul carbon and kerosene to be padded and pressed into a semblance of presentability or glossed over by the palaver of glibness of smooth sales talk.

CLEVELAND WINS 1924 REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

This is the committee of Cleveland, O., 50K who battled successfully to have the Republican National Convention brought to Cleveland next June 15. Left to right these standing are: O. F. Routhan, A. N. Jappe, Mrs. Nellie L. Jappe, state representative O. K. Schimansky, Miss Genevieve R. Cline, George B. Harris, Thomas H. Kewick, treasurer of the committee, George A. Stauffer, James L. E. Jappe, secretary. Below: Representative Theodore E. Burton and Carol A. Thompson. Photographed in Washington after Republican National Committee had announced its choice.

Farewell, old roadside billboards! You've played an important part in our lives. But now your days are numbered—in Minnesota, at least. No longer will you tell folks traveling through the Gopher State just what to smoke or chew, or what hams are best. Nor will you emblazon your old familiar message, like "200 Miles to St. Paul." The state Legislature has decreed all signs along the highways must go. It's a safety measure. Here are two highway employees executing the assembly's decree.

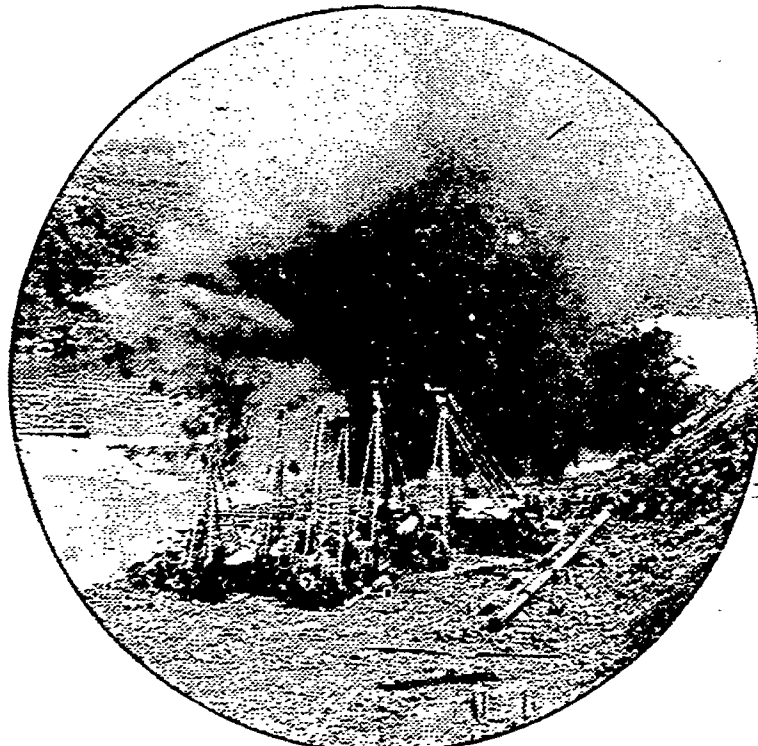

It doesn't take much to make the unlucky kiddies happy on Christmas Day. A dollar or two will buy a few simple presents that will transform their Christmas from one of childish despair to unalloyed happiness. This is the type of children that the Post-Crescent Good Fellow club will help out.

Page boys of the Senate and House had a snow fight before the Capitol when the first snow of the season fell in Washington the other day. A merry time was had by all.

Looks like an enemy vessel being blown up. But the war's over, you know. It's engineers blasting thousands of tons of dirt and rock at La Pater Point in the Panama Canal. They're widening the canal at this and other points. In front of the smoke can be seen the drills the engineers are using.

How's this for a stack of pumpkins? Over in Camden, N. J., there's a cannery where many thousand pumpkins every year die a horrible death. This shows this year's death house with inmates patiently awaiting their turn to come under the knife. There's enough here for eight million pies.

Not one of them can hear. Yet every member of this band from the School for the Deaf and Dumb at Knoxville, Tenn., is a good musician. A highly developed sense of vibration governs every note. Despite its handicaps, this band is considered one of the best musical organizations in the south. It has played for many dignitaries in recent months.

FEDERAL REVENUE COLLECTOR HERE TO AID TAXPAYERS

Income Tax Blanks Will Be Mailed After First Of New Year

R. C. Fairbank, United States deputy revenue collector, who has been working out of Appleton for the past few months, is now to be reached in his office in the city hall practically every day.

Work on the 1924 federal income tax returns will begin after Jan. 2. Blanks will be mailed to all who filed returns last year, but failure to receive a blank is no excuse for not filing, Mr. Fairbank says. Persons who have an income less than $5,000 and who are not in business will have a simplified income tax blank to fill out.

Returns must be filed by all persons, whether citizens or not, whose gross income for 1923 was $5,000, or whose net income amounted to $1,000, if single, or if married and not living with husband or wife, and to $2,000, if married and living with husband or wife. If the combined net income of husband, wife and dependent minor children equaled or exceeded $2,000, or if their combined gross income amounted to $5,000, all such income must be reported on a joint return, or on separate returns for husband and wife. This is to be done regardless of the amount of the exemptions to which one is entitled.

Net income is the gross income less losses by fire, etc., interest paid, taxes paid, bad debts, contributions and other deductions allowed by law.

500 AT PARTY FOR INTERLAKE WORKERS

The Christmas celebration given Thursday evening by members of the Athletic association of the Interlake Pulp Paper company to their families at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium was one of the most enjoyable events of its kind ever held in Appleton. More than 500 persons were present, which included many children. One end of the Y. M. C. A. lobby was used as a parking place for baby carriages.

The program opened with community singing led by Carl McKee and was followed by a motion picture. Several selections were rendered by a quartet led by Mr. McKee after which Santa Claus made his appearance and presented the children with toy balloons, candy, nuts and apples. All present were served with icecream and cake. Music was furnished by an orchestra.

EXECUTE CHIEF OF CHINESE BANDITS

Pekin—Sun Mai-to, one of the bandit leaders who participated in the attack on a Shanghai-Peking express train near Su-chow in the province of Kiangsu last May, in which a number of Americans and other foreigners were kidnapped and held captive for more than a month, has been executed at Taichwang in Chekiang province, according to notices received by the war ministry here.

He was charged with permitting troops under his command to mutiny and rebel against the government, the notices state.

The bandits who participated in the train raid were enlisted in the Chinese army, under an agreement reached after prolonged negotiations with the Peking government.

GETS DRUNK AND SICK FROM "PATENT MEDICINE"

Some persons may be afraid of moonshine, but find just as great a kick in patent medicines. The police patrol answered a summons at midnight Thursday to Mason and Collette avenue where it was reported a drunken man was in an automobile near the Soo Line railroad tracks. Officer Albert Deltzen there arrested Albert Drall, 1355 Virginia st. whom he found deserted by his driver companion. The automobile was towed in to the police station and Drall locked up for the night. The motorist admitted by the prisoner proved to be a patent medicine which according to the label contains 18 per cent alcohol. The prisoner was very sick. A fine of $5 in addition to costs totaling $4.20 were imposed upon Drall by Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court Friday morning.

MRS. M'CORMICK TURNS OVER $5,230,000 FUND

By Associated Press
Chicago—Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller and divorced wife of Harold T. McCormick, Thursday night turned over $5,230,000 in Standard Oil securities to the newly formed Edith Rockefeller McCormick trust, of which she is president. Edwin D. Krenn, former Swiss architect brought to America by Mrs. McCormick, and Edward A. Dato, partners in the realty firm of Krenn and Dato are co-trustees.

STUDY CONDITIONS

The "eyes and ears" of 1,500,000 American farmers' families visited Germany to study conditions. The committee is shown coming from Ambassador Houghton's office. Houghton is in center with white flower. The woman is Mrs. Fritz Kresler, wife of the violinist, now in Berlin aiding sufferers. The man in front is Gray Silver, head of the committee.

REACH AGREEMENT IN DAMAGE CLAIM

After a jury in municipal court had been summoned and the automobile damage suit of William Bodway vs. Lewis Alsted was about to start, the case was settled between the two parties and the jury dismissed Friday. Settlement was made with a stipulation of $760 for the plaintiff. The amount of damages asked in the complaint was $3,350. The suit resulted from a collision between cars driven by Mr. Bodway and Mr. Alsted's chauffeur on Pacific at Jan. 19, 1923. The plaintiff was bruised and cut and confined to his home for 12 weeks. It was alleged, for which the plaintiff claimed damages in the sum of $3,000. Damages to his automobile was figured at $350. Morgan & Johns represented the plaintiff and VanDyke, Shaw, Muskat & VanDyke of Milwaukee, represented the defendant.

ROSE AND FRUIT IN GIFT BOX REMIND OF BALMY SOUTHLAND

A reminder of what Christmas will be in the sunny south has been received by Miss LeNovo Schwartz, 841 Sixth-st., in the form of a package from Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Gregorius former residents of Macville and now living on a farm at Silver Hill, Ala. Miss Schwartz received a package containing a beautiful red rose which was picked from the Gregorius garden, and also a quantity of oranges, tangerines and pears. The rose stem was inserted into a pot to give it moisture and was fresh and fragrant when it arrived.

Christmas Claron made its appearance at Appleton high school on Friday with a festive Christmas cover done in red and white. Pictures of Clifford Courtney, Marie Voelckes and Herbert Gauerke appeared in the hall of fame.

TRAIN CHILDREN IN CHURCH WORK, VERKUYL ADVISES

Sunday School Work Discussed At Conference In Presbyterian Church

A church that does not reach out and teach and train the congregation tends toward intellectualism and rationalism and if all religious education were kept for the Sabbath the result would be Phariseism. This was the idea that Dr. Garrit Verkuyl conveyed to his audience in Memorial Presbyterian church Thursday evening. This address was part of the all-day Sunday school conference for church workers and people who were especially interested in religious education.

At the supper at 6:30 given by the Sunday School Teachers club and to which all Sunday school workers of other churches were invited, Dr. Verkuyl said that after a child has matured and left the Sunday school department, he often drops out of the church entirely, but if proper training is given the child in church work, while he is in Sunday school, he will attend church services after he has passed the Sunday school age. This training, Dr. Verkuyl felt, was quite necessary.

He advocated at least one substitute teacher for every four teachers in the school, and suggested that a good plan to follow is that which gives a child marks in his Sunday school work. Report cards are sent to the child's parents as a part of this merit system.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon, junior and intermediate workers held their conference. The Baptist, German Methodist and Reformed churches of Appleton sent representatives to the conference. The idea was to inspire and to give instructions to Sunday school teachers and those interested in religious education.

PRESIDENT PATS STATE ON BACK FOR HELPING GERMANS

Judge Backus Commended By Coolidge For Raising Money For Children

Banks of Appleton will be supplied with coupon receipts by the committee in charge of the German children's relief fund, to be issued to those who make their contributions at these places. The campaign will open here Jan. 1.

The receipts are numbered serially and are made out in three forms, one for dollar contributions, another for five dollar ones and a third coupon in which any amount may be inserted. The stub of the receipt gives the committee a record of each subscription.

Commendation for the manner in which Wisconsin is rallying to the relief of the destitute youngsters of Germany is reaching Judge A. C. Backus, state chairman, from many persons of prominence, even President Calvin Coolidge. A letter from the White House and signed by the president reads:

"I have received, through Senator La Follette, considerable information regarding the campaign you are making in behalf of the starving children of Germany. It is a pleasure to know that this fine charitable work is being pressed so earnestly, and to express my wish that the fullest success may accompany it."

PIERS FOR WEST END BRIDGE ARE FINISHED

Workmen Will Start Laying Steel For New Structure After Jan. 1

Wausau Iron Works which is building the new Cherry-st bridge completed the concrete piers on Wednesday. From now until the holidays will be occupied with odd jobs.

Two more piers disconnected with the bridge but included in the contract will be built immediately after New Years. They will be located in the middle of the river and will serve as a protection to both the railway drawbridge and the new structure.

The iron for the bridge has not yet arrived, but is expected it will be here by the time it is needed. As the cable is not strong enough other methods will be resorted to for handling it.

1923 STATUTES READY FOR MUNICIPAL CLERKS

An allotment of copies of the 1923 statutes has been received at the office of John E. Hantschel, county clerk, for distribution among the city, village and town clerks. Only copies of Volume 1 have been received, the others will be sent when printed. The first volume contains the entire text of the statutes, while Volume 2 contains the index, annotations to the statutes, rules of the supreme court, rules of the circuit courts, rules of the county courts, comparative tables of old and new members of chapters and sections, tables of courts, judges, court commissioners and reporters. In view of the fact that all the statutes are contained in the first volume, that volume was sent out in advance of the second which will not appear until later.

Sharp Competition In Automobile Tires Cuts Profits To Low Point

Rubber Consumers Believe United States Should Have Independent Source Of Supply Of Raw Material

By Associated Press
Wellesley Hills, Mass.—Roger W. Babson has just completed an analysis of the rubber industry that is of vital interest to both investor and automobile owner. A summary of his findings included in a statement issued Friday, follows: "Brazil was the original source of crude rubber, but in 1913 we began to get plantation rubber grown mainly in the Orient. Since that date the use of plantation or cultivated rubber has rapidly increased while Brazilian importance has approached the vanishing point."

"The output of plantation rubber for 1922 for instance, is estimated at 130,000 long tons as compared with 45,000 long tons in 1913. Brazilian crude rubber in that year was 22,000 long tons and in 1922 was about 15,000. Plantation rubber in 1922 supplied about 93 per cent of all crude rubber produced."

"The great demand for rubber for tires with the increase in automobiles and the comparatively high prices for rubber several years ago caused a large amount of capital to be invested in rubber plantations in the Orient especially in the British and Dutch colonies. It takes six to seven years before trees begin to produce profitably so that their early in the field obtained large profits for several years. The flotation of rubber plantation securities, especially in Great Britain, was carried to an extreme and the investors were kept in a high state of excitement. The result was that, despite warning to the contrary, cultivation was carried beyond present needs and the price of crude rubber showed a decline from an average price in 1914 of 63 cents a pound at New York to 35 cents in 1920.

day estimates indicate that the British produce about 75 per cent of the plantation rubber, the Dutch about 13 per cent, the French and Belgians about 5 per cent and Americans about 3 per cent. America, on the other hand, uses over 70 per cent of the crude rubber of the world. At the last congress, $500,000 was appropriated for an investigation of the crude rubber situation in all parts of the world. The idea is to find out whether it is possible and feasible for this country to produce a large part of its requirements."

"The tire industry in the United States uses about 70 per cent of the rubber imported and naturally dominates the rubber industry. Mechanical goods use 14 percent, boots and shoes existence. Taking 1913 as a base at 5 per cent, miscellaneous products 8 percent. In 1922 the output of tire casings was around 35,000,000 and it is indicated that well over 49,000,000 will be produced this year. Automobile registration for the year will probably average well over 13,000,000 cars."

"As a result of the large profits in the industry, there was an abnormal expansion during the war. Too large a number of companies were attached into the tire manufacturing field, and competition is now very keen."

"The increase in the price of crude rubber and other raw materials since 1922, with low prices for the finished tires, has greatly reduced the margin of profit and in some cases, wiped it out altogether. Several companies are now having a fight for their very existence. Taking 1913 as a base at 5 per cent, miscellaneous products 8 percent, the average price index of tires

These Women Won't Be Scrubbing In Their Old Age

You will find grey haired women scrubbing the floors of office buildings at night, in any big American city. They are there because those upon whom they depended for security in old age failed to save and invest wisely for old age income. (By the way, there are plenty of laws protecting women from working at night in most of the clean, safe fairly well paid occupations, but there seems to be no law protecting them from doing the hardest and poorest paid labor day or night.)

Milwaukee Electric and Wisconsin Gas & Electric have more than 3,000 Wisconsin women investors. Most of them are owners of our preferred shares. A trifle more than half of the total have invested jointly with their husbands; at the death of either, the survivor becomes sole owner of the shares without delay or expense. In some cases, mother and daughter buy shares jointly. Other thousands are wage-earning women investing regularly a part of what they earn to provide their own protection against want in old age.

Buying Milwaukee Electric 7% cumulative preferred shares, they become preferred owners of a PERMANENT industry; a State-regulated monopoly; a business growing rapidly and solidly year after year; a business that supplies basic necessities for one of the largest and richest industrial districts in the United States; a business that for nearly twenty-four years past has paid its preferred share dividends in cash regularly every three months, and that has paid common share dividends averaging 8% every year for the last twenty years.

Many of our women investors buy shares of each new issue that the State authorizes us to sell to finance growth of the business. They are concentrating their savings in this business, gradually building up an investment whose 7% income, as dependable as 3% bank interest, will make them safe against having to go out and drudge for bread in their old age.

Milwaukee Electric 7% preferred shares now on sale cost $100 each. You can buy them paying all cash or $5 down and $5 a month per share. Either way you get 7% on every dollar invested, from the start. Come in and talk it over with us, or let us send a salesman or a Circular, with full details. Mail orders filled by registered letter.

ent activity at 7 per cent below normal and the readjustment about three fifths completed and a consequent curtailment in the demand for equipment for new automobiles, as well as a smaller demand for replacement account of the restricted purchasing power on the part of the public. The Piano with a Personality

Pianos are as individual as people. There are no two quite alike. But while "it takes all kinds of people to make a world" it takes only one kind of piano to bring complete musical satisfaction, and that is The APOLLO—as anyone will agree who comes in here and gets acquainted with this magnificent instrument.

When we say "it is unsurpassed for beauty of tone, beauty of workmanship, and beauty of design," we are setting forth a simple, unvarnished statement of plain facts.

STAGG OFF AGAIN: PANS ROMNEY FOR WORK ON PRO GRID

Veteran Chicago Mentor Criticizes Former Pupil On Horlick Eleven

By Associated Press
Racine—How Milton Romney, right half on the Horlick Legion grid team, clashed with his old friend and mentor Alonzo Stagg, coach of the University of Chicago, over professional football was told by George Hartons, a former team mate on the Chicago local team here.

Hartons said Coach Stagg, who developed Romney into one of the best players the Chicago team ever had sent for the halfback after hearing he was playing professional football.

Called on Carpet
Romney called on the great coach and asked just why he had given up his amateur standing and gone in to the pro ranks. Stagg upbraided him for cashing in on his college rep.

LOVES GRID GAME
He told Coach Stagg that he considered it an honor to be connected with the team and that he was going to join the Racine post of the American Legion because he believed that it was one of the finest posts in the country. He said he was not playing for the money he got as he could have demanded more elsewhere, but that he was sticking in the game because he loved to play and did not want to quit just because he was through school.

LOVES GRID GAME
In closing his argument he pointed out to Mr. Stagg that coaches are professionals and that he saw no difference in coaching a team and playing on a pro team.

LOVES GRID GAME
Hartons closed his talk by saying that all the college men on the Racine team felt the same as Milton Romney. They are playing here because they love the game and because the legion has developed a spirit as near like college spirit as it is possible to get in a professional outfit.

LOVES GRID GAME
Maurice Mathisen, a veteran member of the Marinette high eleven, has been named captain of the 1924 eleven. Mathisen has performed brilliantly at a guard position and was rated as one of the best flankers in the state. Mathisen is popular with the players. He should be a good leader.

LOVES GRID GAME
The election of James J. Grace, as president of the Fox River valley hockey league, was a splendid move. The Oshkosh puck chasing enthusiasts has long been a booster for the Canadian sport in this part of the state and he can be counted on to give his best efforts to the new organization.

Lawrence Quint Ends Drill Over Holidays; Alumni Game Planned

Regulars Show Effects Of Intensive Training By Beating Pickups. 44 To 8. In Fast Scrimmage

Coach A. C. Denney has dismissed his Lawrence regulars for the holidays after a period of intensive drill started more than a week ago, which kept the men here after the rest of the students had left the college for their Christmas vacation. Denney drilled his men twice daily, and his instructions in passing, dribbling, pivoting, and the fundamentals of the game in general have resulted in a big improvement.

Thursday afternoon the regulars engaged in their first real scrimmage, with a team picked from the best players of the school. The Blues are small and light, perhaps the lightest team the school has ever had. However, they easily carried off a 44 to 8 victory against their heavier opponents, and carried themselves in mid season form. There are two men to every position on the regular string, all of them equally good. According to Denney, there is no particular star on the lineup, and he bases his hopes on teamwork.

PLAN ALUMNI GAME
A change has been made in the schedule, which puts the Blue against an alumni team at Army G on June 3, instead of against Concordia, which invades Appleton Jan. 5, according to the new plans. The contest with the alumni is expected to offer a good deal of excitement. There are several former Lawrence stars in or near this city, among them some of the greatest players in the school's history, and that he is not definitely known who will play, plans are underway to get "Dutch" Sylvester, Junior Taylor, "Red" Tippet and several others equally prominent athletes on the alumni team. If the first contest proves a success, similar games will be played whenever opportunity offers.

LITTLE CHUTE DEFEATS APPLETON HIGH FROSH
Little Chute high school quint Thursday evening humbled the Appleton high freshman team, 14 to 9, in a fast contest at Waukegan in Little Chute. The Appleton youngsters put up a good fight, but were unable to cope with the heavier Little Chute regulars, especially in the second half, when they seemed exhausted with bucking their more experienced opponents.

Wrestling isn't going any too good in Appleton this year. The mat promoters put on a pretty good show the other night, but less than a corporal's guard turned out for the grappling exhibition in the olden days when George Hill was the card, capacity crowds turned out for the matches.

WAUPACA FIVE HUMBLERS MARSHFIELD SOLDIERS

In a whitewash finish, the Waupaca Legion basketball team Monday won from the Company C team at Marshfield, 25 to 10. The Marshfield quint was leading 12 to 11 at the end of the first half and further increased its lead until a few minutes before the end of the game. Then baskets by Poppen Wall, Bushey and Rasmussen in rapid succession put the game on ice for Waupaca. Keeney, the visitors' heavy guard, broke up many of Marshfield's plays before they could be converted into counters.

PLITT, MOUND ACE, SIGNS FOR 2 YEARS AT KENOSHA

Kenosha—Norman Plitt, the last right-handed hurler who twirled the Simmons team to many a victory last season and who had a great part in winning the Midwest league pennant, will be back on the mound for the Simmons team in 1924. This was made certain when formal announcement was made by officials of the Simmons team and confirmed by Plitt that a makers.

ELITES CHALLENGE APPLETON BOWLERS

Elite Specials of New London have been turning most of their bowling matches with other teams of their neighborhood into victories, and are casting their eyes about them for bigger prey. They have observed the brilliant record of the Kunitz Taxis and Hoppies Wieners of Appleton, and contemplate taking one or both of these strong teams into camp if they can arrange games. The New London bowlers are free to meet the Appleton pinbusters at New London any Monday evening.

Honor Roll Of Good Fellows

Half of the $1,500 goal of the Good Fellows club for relief of hungry children in Appleton has been subscribed by the Good Fellows. This morning the total contribution of Good Fellows was $731.43 and only three days are left to raise an equal amount. The task seems almost impossible—but it isn't if those who haven't given but can afford to, do their part.

On Page 2 of today's paper is the membership coupon which should be filled out and sent with your membership fee to the Good Fellows Club editor of the Post-Crescent. Let your conscience dictate how much money you should contribute. Every cent you pay will be used to relieve the distress of unfortunate mothers and children.

BRIARTON DANCE HALL BURNS DOWN

Seymour Fire Department Helps Save Buildings Endangered By Blaze

Special to Post-Crescent
Black Creek — Fire completely destroyed the dance hall owned by Frank Becker at Briarton early Monday evening. The fire department of Seymour was called to help fight the blaze. Fire fighters had to work hard to save other buildings at that place. The cheese factory across the street was in great danger. It is thought the fire originated from the chimney. Freda Fitzgerald, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fitzgerald was knocked down by a car Wednesday forenoon at the school she attends 1 1/2 miles west of the village. She and girl companions went to meet the mail carrier, Frank Bick, to get the mail. They stepped from the rear of Mr. Bick's car into the path of a machine driven by G. H. Kringie. Miss Fitzgerald was painfully bruised but not seriously and no bones were broken.

Wilbert T. son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Sedo, submitted to an operation for appendicitis at St. Elizabeth hospital at Appleton, Saturday. He is on the gain.

Roy Bishop left Wednesday for Oklahoma City, Okla., to spend a month at the home of his mother.

Mrs. Matt Nordor and Mrs. Clarence Nordor and children of Bear

Creek, spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Homrig.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sassman spent Sunday with the former's mother, Mrs. Louis Sassman, at Appleton.

Our Most Valuable Food

The first food that we take on coming into this world is milk, and it should be remembered that milk is the most nearly perfect food furnished by nature. But in this country we drink only about 43 gallons of whole milk per person annually. Sweden consumes about 69 gallons per capita. Milk contains the three fundamental elements—protein, fat and sugar— together with the most important minerals and vitamins in such proportion as to render it an exceedingly desirable food. It is said that boiled milk digests more rapidly than raw milk and the material leaves the stomach sooner. Thus milk made into nourishing soups, creamed vegetables, puddings and cocoas is a good way to serve it for the cold months. Milk is more easily assimilated when taken with bread or other foods. For many ailments the curative powers of milk are unrivaled. They act on the nervous system, the liver, the blood vessels, the heart, and circulation. Milk is an excellent sedative. Its albumen is one of the least toxic. It is useful in case of ulcers and inflamed or neuralgic conditions of the stomach or bowels and is generally favorable in attacks of diarrhea. It is also valuable in cases of dropsy, uremia, nephritis, high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, etc. Pyorrhea, asthma and all rheumatic conditions are relieved by the use of milk.

GOVERNOR ORDERS SLAYER REHEARD

Confessed Killer Of Neighbor Freed By Self Defense Verdict

By Associated Press

Hurley—A second hearing ordered by Governor Blaine, was started at the courthouse here Friday morning for William Nurm, confessed slayer of Hjalmer Lehto, River Branch farmer with whom he quarreled last winter.

At the first hearing, Acting Judge E. C. Shimondie dismissed the case on the ground that Nurm shot in self-defense. Friends of the Lehto family appealed to the governor for another hearing with the result that it was ordered. Robert M. Reiser, assistant attorney general of Wisconsin, is prosecuting the case.

More than a dozen witnesses were called Friday morning and in the majority of cases the testimony previously given by witnesses was accepted for this hearing.

Friends of Nurm claim that Lehto was a member of a socialist crowd of Finnish farmers and that Nurm, who had prospered with a small store, was the object of jealousy that led to the shooting. Lehto was shot on a lonely road near River Branch eight miles north of here, and there were no witnesses to the affair. Nurm gave himself up shortly after the shooting.

CHINA LEADER WOULD BOYCOTT FOREIGN GOODS

Sun Yet Sen Registers Disapproval Of Interference In Canton Affair

Hongkong—Advices from Canton state that numerous placards are appearing on the streets of the southern capital urging an anti-American and anti-British boycott as a result of the attitude of the foreign powers in the present customs surplus imbroglio.

Some of the placards appeal to the people to unite to obtain the Kwangtung customs surplus in order to "save the Chinese nation."

The Chinese customs are collected under supervision of the powers through a treaty which makes them a guarantee for the payment of charges against China's foreign loans.

Sun Yet Sen, leader of the south China government which is at war with the Peking administration claims that the customs surplus of Kwangtung province should be turned over to him instead of being given to the northern regime.

Sun's recent threat to seize the customs at Canton caused the powers to send a number of gunboats to the capital. Dr. Sun Yet Sen, head of the Canton government Friday telegraphed to Ramsey MacDonald leader of the British Labor party asking him to bring to the notice of British people, and public "the worst and the grave situation which the British representatives in China mainly have been instrumental in creating at Canton."

"My government is being threatened with acts of war by an international force of nearly a score of cruisers and gunboats armed with soldiers, who have already landed at Shamen, the foreign section of Canton, where the administration offices of other nations are located."

ELECTRIC SHOCK TO TAKE SLEEP'S PLACE SOME DAY

Scientist Says Sleep Is Nothing More Than Storage Of Electric Energy

New York — Whirr! Bzzz! Crrrr! It's the last expiring shriek of the alarm clock before the ash man takes it away forever.

For folks aren't going to sleep any more and pretty soon the working man's going to find eight hours on his hands that he won't know what to do with. Arthur Cotton, 23-year-old English inventor, has come over to these shores to tell Americans so. "All life is electrical," he says, "and sleep is merely a time when the body is generating new electrical energies with which to carry on its work. Sooner it will be possible to work all day, take a shot of electricity and go right on, just as chipper as though you'd had a whole night of refreshing slumber. Beds will become obsolete.

The process with which bed springs and mattress manufacturers will receive this announcement can well be imagined. But just fancy how the all-night cabaret keepers will start capering!

For Mr. Cotton (one would like to call him Arthur, but it seems he pairs around with Lord Louis Mountbatten and the Prince of Wales and so has to be treated with respect) is working on his invention right now. So long on his invention right now. So long on his invention right now. So long on his invention right now.

That, however, is only one of the little trifles with which England's foremost mechanical genius is occupied. When he was 15 and a school boy at Eton he made an attachment to his alarm clock so that when the clock went off it would shake him up and the alarm would be a warning of the time when he should be up and at it.

Then he invented a device for the dropping bombs from airplanes. In the England promptly took the 16-year-old boy from school and put him in the service of the admiralty.

After the war he went to Cambridge and none of the professors there being able to answer his questions, he went to the United States and lectured and roamed at will among the laboratories.

Business houses have offered him salaries varying from $3000 to $150,000 a year to turn his uncanny genius to their account. But Mr. Cotton prefers to do his own thing.

Of the several hundred contrivances which he has hit upon he has taken the trouble to patent only about 20.

Just at present he is engrossed with his theory that the human body is nothing more nor less than an electric motor.

"If one will look at a strong light through a screen of diaphanous, a very strong all-time dye," he says, "and will then lower the light and observe any human body, the body will be surrounded by the same sort of aura that comes from a magnet."

"The body is continually giving off electrical energy. As soon as this fact is taken into account, it will be able to do things which are beyond the power of the human mind."

WORKS BOTH WAYS

And it sure looks as though there might be something in it for when I went up to see Cotton I found him tucked in bed with thin coppery little wires leading from the bed post and out through the windows.

"How come?" I said, pointing to the wires.

"Oh," said he, "it was necessary for me to have a bed in which I could sleep. I couldn't sleep. I couldn't sleep. I couldn't sleep."

"And did it work?" I breathed.

"Like a charm," said he.

It sure is a grand rule when it works both ways.
